

MARATHON WEEKLY

April 28, 2022

MASTERING THE SEAS

Sailfish tournament anglers battle tough conditions | P.26

CHAMPIONSHIP BOUND

MHS baseball roars into the postseason | P.18

You deserve to bank with the BEST!

Mary Beth Harris
VP, Senior Business Development Officer
(305) 676.3124

my100bank.com | A Home BancShares Company

© 2022 FORBES MEDIA LLC. USED WITH PERMISSION

Forbes 2022
AMERICA'S BEST BANKS

RANKED #1

TOUGHING IT OUT

Anglers battle through challenging conditions in inaugural sailfish tournament

The Florida Keys are known for many weekends of flat calm on the water, ideal for fishing, diving and nearly all aquatic activities. The weekend of April 22-23 was not one of them.

Undeterred, 17 boats loaded with 89 anglers battled four- to eight-foot seas, hoping to take home top honors in the inaugural Marathon Premier Sailfish Tournament. The event was the first to feature a sailfish competition in Marathon since the closing of the Leon Shell Memorial Sailfish Tournament.

By the time "lines out" was called on April 23, anglers had reported a total of 17 sails caught and released. Team Ofishal took home the win in the inaugural tournament with four caught and released sailfish, while Robert "Reggie" Hiro and Alexis Bowcock ended the weekend as the top male and female anglers, respectively.

"We had some amazing, very tough anglers in this tournament," said tournament founder Katie Lewis. "The one thing I couldn't control was, of course, the most insane, but everything else went smoothly. I was just really excited that everyone was so receptive to bringing a sailfish tournament back to Marathon."

A reception at Florida Keys Aquarium Encounters, catered by Brutus Restaurant and Seafood Market and Keys Rotisserie, followed the tournament. Trophies donated by Gray Taxidermy were waiting for the winners, while numerous local fishing guides and artists donated items for a silent auction.

Proceeds from the charity event will benefit Mission Fishin', an organization dedicated to providing memorable fishing trips and other marine adventures for special needs children, foster children and their families who would not otherwise be afforded these opportunities. For more information, including eventual 2023 tournament details, visit www.marathonsailfish.com.

—Alex Rickert

1

2

3

4

6

5

1. Team Ofishal takes home first place overall with four caught fish. From left: Phillip Quincy Byron Jr., Austin Baxter, KC Spaulding, mate and angler Clint "Digger" Rodamer, captain Cody Darby, Tyler Kelley, James Simcic.

2. Team Big Game finishes second overall with three successful catches. From left: James Platt, Doug Cwanek, Robert "Reggie" Hiro, captain Ariel Medero, Lorri Cwanek, Katie Lewis.

3. Team Blue Magic takes third with two caught fish. From left: Trevor Cowieson, Stacy Caba, Wyatt Hogue, captain Alex Bell, Jason Hogue, mate and angler Nick Caruso. Not pictured: Barry Bogo.

4. Team Big Game toughs it out en route to a second place finish.

5. Conditions described by some as 'sporty' and 'insane' by others were no object for the Main Attraction.

6. Team Vice Versa cuts through the waves.

Photos by Mikey Finiguerra/MFin Media LLC.